

News From School

The current academic year saw the school bustling with activity as always. LA Fest 2010, held on the fourth of July, was a huge success with Christ Nagar ISC, winning the competition. The Youth Festival was also held later on, and was a grand success with SS house securing victory. The interschool basketball match was however a dampner. We lost by a whisker to Sarvodaya School in the semi finals. Following which, St Josephs won their way to securing victory against Sarvodaya in the finals.

LOBA AGM

The LOBA AGM was held at the school quadrangle on July 12th. New committee members were elected at the AGM. The current LOBA Chairman is Manoj Kamanani (1986). AC Raj (1975) is the Vice President while Alex Ajith Philip (1987) is the new secretary. Programs regarding The golden jubilee celebrations of the school were discussed as part of the AGM.

Obituary

Two Loyolites passed away recently. Sunil Gangadharan (1972), an eminent businessman and a past president of LOBA, succumbed to a stroke. Cheriyen Thomas (1972) also breathed his last due to ill-health. The LOBA Offers its condolences to these departed souls.

New LOBA Website

For a long time, the LOBA lacked an active web presence. Realizing this fact, LOBA has redesigned the website and relaunched it. Soon, features like Social Networking and member search will be incorporated. Here's a snapshot of the new loba website which has been shifted to a new domain – lobaglobal.com

From the Editor's Desk

Welcome to the first edition of E-LOBA LENS!

E-LOBA LENS draws parallels from the original 'LENS' – a.k.a. the Loyola English News Service, which has been the eyes and ears of the school for over a couple of decades. The LENS spoke about school-news, updates, and interesting trivia.

E-LOBA LENS goes another mile – it's a LENS for the Old Boys. Through E-LOBA LENS, we report news both inside and outside the School. As the name suggests, the newsletter is being operated by the Loyola Old Boys' Association (LOBA).
